

XM satellite radio is one of the best products to come along in a long time. To be able to have a signal and listen from coast to coast is great. With over 100 channels you have a choice of what you want. I can see why the NAB is upset. I have XM in my Truck, home and both vehicles, and I don't listen to their radio anymore. To be able to listen to music with no commercials or news or anything but music is great. That is what I PAY for. It is so nice to listen to what I want and not what there format is. If the NAB can't compete with XM for customers I don't thinks they should go crying to the government for help. This is America and if you have a superior product you should have the right to sell it. As you have already figured out I am against Petition 04-160 and I thank you for your time. Brad Miller
